Christmas shopping sessions

Would you like some child free time to get your Christmas shopping done? We have some ad-hoc sessions available during the next couple of weeks. If you would like to book your Little Learner in for an additional half or full day session please email littlelearners@stannesprimaryschool.co.uk

Twitter

Have you got a Twitter account? If you have, follow us @LLNurseryWSM. It is new to us so please bear with us as we learn how to tweet – but we endeavour to post regularly to help keep you up to date with Nursery news.

Lending Library

We would like to close our lending library and will re-open in January 2017. So please do return any lending library books you may have at home. We are pleased to announce that we will be introducing maths and literacy games to our lending library in the New Year, so please do keep your eyes peeled for these in the parents' area.

Christmas Nativities

We are bursting with pride for our Little Learners who joined in our two nativity performances this week. We have a mixed age class with some of our Little Learners only just over 2 ½ years old!

As Mrs Dadds mentioned, for both children and adults at any age to sit on a stage in front of a big crowd of people can be a tummy churning experience! Thank you for the lovely comments you left in our comments book for us and for providing beautiful costumes for the occasion. Last of all thank you for helping your Little Learners to practice the songs (sorry if you are singing we're having a party in your sleep too!!).

Christmas Challenge

In addition to the Christmas home learning challenges available on our website; we would like to invite our Little Learners and families to a super challenge!

Can your Little Learner choose a photo from Christmas; showing a special or magical moment?

We would like to make a display in the new year, which will then be made in to a 'floor book' (A3 sized scrapbook) for children to access and discuss with their friends.

Perhaps visiting Father Christmas? Giving a relative a big Christmas cuddle? Giving a present to a loved one? Singing a Christmas carol?

Please do email us or bring in a festive snap of your Little Learners choosing any time between now and January. Thank you!
